Mass Transfer

by Thomas Kilgore Sherwood Robert L Pigford Charles R. Wilke

MassTransfer Salem State University Mass is transferred by the random motion of molecules across a concentration gradient. Sometimes, but not always, this is similar to heat transfer by conduction. 2. Eddy diffusion (mixing or dispersion or agitation). Mass is transferred by finite parcels of fluids as in momentum and heat transfer.